

INTERNATIONAL RUGBY

The stage is set . . . You have won the Triple Crown but France remain undefeated — the crowd is buzzing as your men line up for the start. The referee blows his whistle and you kick-off. You attack and get a scrum close to the French line as you push for opening points . . .

You can play as England, Scotland, Wales, Ireland or France in this Home International simulation.

Can you win the Triple Crown or even the Grand Slam?

The game includes passing, drop goals, scrums, line outs, conversions, in fact everything you would expect from an excellent Rugby game.

Once the game has loaded you may choose options from the main menu.

- 1 — Keyboard (see game controls)
- 2 — Sinclair Joysticks
- 3 — Kempston Joystick
- 4 — One player game
- 5 — Two player game
- 6 — Easy game
- 7 — Hard game
- 8 — Practice
- 9 — Championship

If you leave the game at this stage it will go into Demonstration mode.

If you select Championship you can choose which team you wish to play for. The league table will then be displayed, you are now ready to play your first game. After you have played your game the computer calculates the result of the other matches played.

Special Controls

PASSING — To pass a ball to another player, press the key for the direction you wish to pass and the bottom row key, or the fire button, simultaneously.

DROP KICK — To drop kick, press the key to move backwards (left or right depending on which end you're at) and the bottom row key or fire button simultaneously.

GOAL KICKS — When you have scored a TRY the big screen TV will show you the Players' eye view. You must compensate for the wind (strength and direction) indicated by arrows by moving your aiming cross left or right of the posts. When you are satisfied, take the kick. You can watch the ball sail over the posts. If you score the linesmen will wave their flags.

Once you have played your game the computer will show you your position in the league table. After you have finished the championship the National Anthem of the winning team is played!
